Section 157 of Title 28 provides that bankruptcy judges may hear and determine certain matters regardless of whether the parties consent, and may hear but may not determine other matters unless the parties consent to the bankruptcy court hearing and determining such matters.

Section 157(c) of Title 28 provides:

(1) A bankruptcy judge may hear a proceeding that is not a core proceeding but that is otherwise related to a case under title 11. In such proceeding, the bankruptcy judge shall submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law to the district court, and any final order or judgment shall be entered by the district judge after considering the bankruptcy judge's proposed findings and conclusions and after reviewing de novo those matters to which any party has timely and specifically objected.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection, the district court, with the consent of all the parties to the proceeding, may refer a proceeding related to a case under title 11 to a bankruptcy judge to hear and determine and to enter appropriate orders and judgments, subject to review under section 158 of this title.

Indicate below whether you consent to the Bankruptcy Court hearing and determining claims and issues in this adversary proceeding.
